

An Introduction to Surgical Leadership

This one day programme will expose participants to a range of senior healthcare leaders who will give a high level overview of the management and leadership challenges facing doctors as well as insights into how the NHS structure works and its relationship to politics.

An Introduction to Surgical Leadership
29 Nov 2017	Programme	Facilitator
10:00 – 10:20	Introduction to the RCS/FMLM leadership programmes for surgeons in training	Miss Clare Marx Immediate Past President RCS Eng Mr Peter Lees Chief Exec/Medical Director, FMLM
10.20 – 10:50	My personal leadership journey	Miss Clare Marx
10.50 – 11.20	Why leadership?	Mr Peter Lees
11:20 – 11:40	COFFEE
11.40 – 12:30	The NHS – how it fits together	Mr Andrew Reed Chief Executive, Royal College of Surgeons of England
12:30 – 13:30	LUNCH
13:30 – 14:15	Politics and the NHS	Dr Andrew Murrison MP
14:15 – 15:00	The importance of teams	Mr Peter Lees
15:00 – 15:15	TEA
15:15 – 16:15	Panel discussion: Medical leadership – why I did it!	Mr Johnny Mathews Trauma & Orthopaedics Registrar/former National Medical Director's Clinical fellow Mr Stan Silverman Medical Director Victoria Twigg Core Surgical Trainee/former National Medical Director's Clinical Fellow
16:15 – 17:00	Keynote address Changing the trauma system in England – does leadership make a difference?	Prof Christopher Moran National Clinical Director for Trauma